WICKING J. SLEEPWEAR
Allison Kaplan, Pioneer Press

Hot flashes are no longer unfashionable. Introducing Wicking J. Sleepwear, a line of nightgowns and loungewear made of fabric that wicks moisture away from the body. The same technology is often used in athletic clothes, but this seems to be the first wicking product aimed at menopausal women. The clothes won't stop the hot flashes or night sweats, but they might make for a slightly cooler night's sleep.

The collection includes tank nightgowns ($48), pajama sets with capri bottoms ($88) and pillowcases ($24). The Night Sweat Survival Kit, including nightgown, pillowcase and body mist, sells for $88.

The products are available at www.wjsleepwear.com. Underneath It All, a boutique that specializes in products for women with breast cancer, is the first in the Twin Cities to carry pieces from the line. The shop (7810 Terrey Pine Court, Eden Prairie; 952-937-9252) is open 10 a.m.-4 p.m. Monday and Thursday, 10 a.m.-6 p.m. Wednesday or by appointment.
